SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JULY 13

BAPTISM.

LESSON TEXTS—Matt. 28:18-20; Acts 8:34-40.

GOLDEN TEXT—For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.—Gal. 3:27.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Matt. 3:13-17; Acts 2:37, 38; 10:1-7; Col. 2:12; 1 Peter 3:18-22.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Christ Baptized by John.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Baptism of Jesus Christ.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The Pledge of Christian Discipleship.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Significance and Importance of Christian Baptism.

I. The Apostles' Commission (Matt. 28:18-20).

1. The authority of Jesus. (v. 18). God gave him all authority in heaven and on earth. As mediator and coming king he possessed all authority. This authority extends over all the material world, angels, wicked men, devils, and his own people. God highly exalted him and gave him a name which is above every name (Phil. 2:9). There is no other way of salvation, for the entire matter of redemption is in his hands (Acts 4:12). Since God has so highly honored him it is extreme folly to expect to be saved while disregarding him.

2. The obligation of the apostles (vv. 19-20).

(1) It was to teach, that is, make disciples of all the nations (v. 19). They were to make known to the whole world that Christ had died to save sinners and that God had committed to Jesus the redemption of the world. Those who are Christ's disciples are bound to proclaim him to others.

(2) Baptize those who believe (v. 19). This is the divinely appointed way of making a public confession of faith in Christ. The disciples must publicly take a stand for Christ. The application of water symbolizes the purifying effect of the blood of Christ and solemnly dedicates to the service of God. This baptism must be in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, showing that the believer has been brought into definite relationship to each member of the Holy Trinity.

(3) Teach the disciples obedience (v. 20). Profession is not enough. It must issue in obedience. Faith must result in works. To call Jesus "Lord" and do not the things which he says profits nothing.

3. The all-sufficient promise (v. 20). The Lord had told the disciples what would happen to them after he had gone away. He made it plain that perils of all kinds awaited them. Though the difficulties were great nothing mattered so long as they had the presence and fellowship of the all-powerful Savior and Lord.

II. The Baptism of the Eunuch (Acts 8:34-40).

1. Philip preached Jesus Christ to him (v. 35). At the invitation of the eunuch Philip joined himself to the chariot and found the eunuch reading from the forty-third chapter of Isaiah. Beginning with this Scripture he preached Christ. He did not preach Christ as a great teacher, but as a savior who had suffered and died instead of the sinner. He preached him as one who had offered himself as a ransom for many. The fact that the eunuch, a great statesman, needed an interpreter of the Scriptures, even such a plain passage as the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah, shows the absolute need of a preacher. The printed page is valuable, but there will always be the need of a preacher. The gospel needs to be experienced before one can be a witness of its saving power.

2. The eunuch requesting baptism (v. 36).

When Christ is truly preached men naturally desire to confess him in baptism. In many quarters baptism has been unduly emphasized, but in others it has been disregarded. It is highly important that an intelligent understanding of its meaning be possessed; for that of which Jesus Christ gave an example and a command is highly important.

3. Philip baptizing the eunuch (v. 38). Having secured from the eunuch the proper confession Philip baptized him. It is faith in Christ that saves, but those who have genuine faith desire to seal it in baptism.

4. The eunuch rejoicing (v. 39). Confession of Christ brings joy. Those who obey the commandments of the Lord can go on their way rejoicing.

Jesus Saves.

As a child walking over a slippery and dangerous path cries out, "Father, I am falling!" and has but a moment to catch his father's hand, so every believer sees hours when only the hand of Jesus comes between him and the abysses of destruction.—Guyler.

Wise in Time.

"Nine-tenths of our wisdom lies in being wise in time," says a great statesman. As far as results are concerned, the wisdom that comes too late is often little better than folly. "If only I had thought of it when the chance offered, I might," is the prelude to many of our useless regrets.

Self Distrust Causes Failure.

In the assurance of strength there is strength; and they are the weakest, however, strong, who have no faith in themselves or their powers.—Bovee.

Really Hit.

"Why do people say, 'As dead as a door nail?'" asked the boob. "Why is a door nail any deader than a door?" "Because it has been hit on the head, I suppose," replied the cheerful idiot.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

How to Peel Peaches, Pears and Plums With Lie

All you need is a good iron kettle big enough to hold plenty of water, a wire basket to hold the fruit, can of lye and a little alum.

To nine gallons of cold water add half a ten-cent can of lye and one half ounce of alum—bring to a boil. Have the kettle large enough, so that it is not over two-thirds filled with the water—this for safety to prevent splashing of the hot solution when the fruit is plunged into the kettle.

When the mixture is boiling, lower the fruit into the boiling solution in a wire basket container or in a thin but firm cloth such as a cheese cloth For smaller quantities of fruit, use four tablespoons lye to one gallon.

Let the fruit remain two minutes in the boiling hot solution, then put it through two cold water baths to thoroughly remove the lye; and in the second bath of cold water rub off with the hands the small pieces of fruit skins that sometimes persist in clinging to the fruit.

Paring peaches, pears and plums with a knife cuts off and wastes a considerable amount of fruit even with the most careful and skilled paring; and paring takes much time. Experts say the fruit next to the skin has the finest flavor and this part is cut off and thrown away with the skin when paring knife, however sharp, is used.

The process of peeling peaches, pears and plums by dipping in hot lye solution is approved by the United States Government Board of Food and Drug Inspection, which reports that lye peeling has no bad effect on the quality or flavor of the fruit.

It Will Pay to Pack Butter on Farms

With butter at 50 cents a pound, the farmer producing even a small amount can well afford to pack it for winter. In order for it to keep properly, however, it is more essential than usual that care be taken in the making and that all utensils should be sterilized.

In the first place, butter for packing should be made only from pasteurized pure sweet cream. The cream may be pasteurized by putting the cream can in a wash-boiler and keeping it at 145 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 minutes. After heating it should be cooled as soon as possible to 60 degrees. Cooling may be quickened by stirring it intermittently, care being taken to avoid churning.

Before churning, add sour milk starter. Churn from 35 to 40 minutes. Wash the butter by drawing off the buttermilk and adding the same amount of clean water. Wash it again if necessary. Salt as usual and work.

The butter may be packed by two methods: (1) Pack in sterilized earthen jar. Place a sterilized white cloth over the top next to the butter. Cover the cloth with a layer of salt one-eighth inch thick. To aid in removing the cloth, have it large enough so that the edges will stick up two inches around the inside of the jar. (2) Pack in brine. First cut the butter into one pound prints and wrap in a clean parchment paper. Tie on the parchment. Immerse in a brine solution containing one pound of salt to four pounds of water. Weight down the butter with a sterile dish and brick. As the brine evaporates, more may be added.

The cooler the butter is kept the better.

The Jug Has Lost Another Job, Too

I visited the farm of an acquaintance the other day, and as he was out in the field at work, his wife told me where to find him, and I went to see him there. After I had talked with him awhile, I said:

"Where's your water jug? I believe I want a drink."

"Jug!" he snorted. "Use a jug for drinking water? Why, you are about as far behind the times as Old Rip was. Come here and I'll show you the latest improved method of taking drinking water to the field."

I followed him to a clump of bushes, and he drew out, not a jug, but a vacuum bottle!

"This will give you a drink that is a drink," he said. "It will be none of the lukewarm stuff that is furnished by a jug after it has been in the field an hour or two."—D., in Progressive Farmer.

Old Virginia Batter Bread

First put about two tablespoons lard in a baking pan and set on edge of range to melt and get hot.

Then beat one egg until light, add about one pint of corn meal, one-half teacup flour, two teaspoons of fine salt. Add enough cold water and stir well until a medium batter is made. Now pour in the melted hot lard and stir well and pour into a baking pan and bake in hot oven (from the start) until a dark brown crust is formed Serve hot from the baking pan.

For Weak Women

In use for over 40 years! Thousands of voluntary letters from women, telling of the good Cardui has done them. This is the best proof of the value of Cardui. It proves that Cardui is a good medicine for women.

There are no harmful or habit-forming drugs in Cardui. It is composed only of mild, medicinal ingredients, with no bad after-effects.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

You can rely on Cardui. Surely it will do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women! It should help.

"I was taken sick, seemed to be . . . ," writes Mrs. Mary E. Veste, of Madison Heights, Va. "I got down so weak, could hardly walk . . . just staggered around. . . . I read of Cardui, and after taking one bottle, or before taking quite all, I felt much better. I took 3 or 4 bottles at that time, and was able to do my work. I take it in the spring when rundown. I had no appetite, and I commenced eating. It is the best tonic I ever saw." Try Cardui.

Mr. Joe Hamlet was unfortunate enough to get several of his ribs broken that belonged in his umbrella.

Mrs. Shields states that her snaps are in quite an unstrung condition.

Mrs. Ala Chambers got the eyes of some of her potatoes punched out.

Someone knocked out several teeth for Dr. H. W. Williams' iron rake.

Mr. J. S. Chambers had the foot of a hill washed away by the recent rains.

Mrs J S. Chambers has had quite a lot of potatoes mashed by the cook.

Mrs. Collins lost a fine horse last week; she misses it greatly, as it was of the clothes horse variety and she used it when ironing.

Mr. J. S. Chambers, while out driving, was unfortunate enough to run near a baby carriage containing the baby's clothes. The mother had the baby in her arms, but she was so frightened that she fell into a gully by the roadside and was overcome with laughter.

Can the R.H. boys play ball? They cannot. Three times has Madisonville defeated them on their own diamond, torn the laurels from their brow and trampled them in the dust. We are a silent and a discouraged people. The boy we thought such a fine catcher can't even catch potato bugs after they have been fed on Paris green for a week.

"Lucinda", I said, after she had read me this mess, which she thought smart, "do you know why you are like a flower in full bloom? Well, it is because you are beginning to fade and it is about time for you to fade away." She did.

Spout Spring

Mrs. Ida V. Driscoll and Mrs. John Cullen, of Roanoke, were the guests of Mrs. R. O Alvis on Sunday.

Miss Susie T. Davidson entertained at dinner on July 5 in honor of Mrs. Driscoll and Mrs. J. Cullen of Roanoke, and Miss Jean Howerton of Lynchburg. One of the most interesting features of entertainment was Miss Davidson's crack shooting. The only thing she sees wrong about the war was that she wasn't sent overseas to get at a Hun occasionally.

Mr. and Mrs H P. Taylor and H. P., jr., of Lynchburg; Mrs. Foster, Mrs Smith, Mrs. T. Hancock and Clerk Claude Smith of Appomattox; Mrs. I. V. Driscoll of Roanoke, were guests of Mrs. W. B. Caldwell on Sunday.

Miss Mary Davidson of Lynchburg, is at home for the summer with her father, Mr. J. M. Davidson.

Wonder what the many travelers from good road sections thought of the Appomattox roads on July 4, as they came to it neighborhood from all sections? I guess they thought those who handled the road business in this county knew their business.

Mr. Lambdon Dawson, of Chester, S. C., is the guests of his daughter, Mrs Eugene Chick, of this place.

We are sorry to hear of the sad death of one of Mr. Emmit Carson's little children and the serious illness of others in his family.

Mr. James P Patteson, of Chicago, is expected in the neighborhood soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ferguson are the happy parents. It's a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alvis and two daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Noel, of Lynchburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Alvis on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Stratton, with their adopted boy, Bud Clark, were week-end guests of Mr. H. B. Jennings.

Miss Jean Howerton, of Lynchburg, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Samuel Davidson.

The farmers of this section have at last gotten "above grass", and crops are looking fine. I wish such could be said of the roads.

The revival services which are in progress at the Concord Baptist church are increasing in interest and are being largely attended every night. The meetings will be continued through this week and both day and night services will be held by Rev. N L Loflin, who is conducting them.

Piney Mountain

Mr. L. N Herncall has returned to his home in West Virginia after spending two weeks with his mother in-law, Mrs. W. H S Barlow.

There was a big ball game between the Oakville and Piney Mountain boys Saturday on the Piney Mountain diamond; a large crowd attended; the game was won with ease by Piney Mountain, the score being 20-0. Hurrah for Piney Mountain; and I tell you if old Piney just had all of her old players together she would tackle any of them for a game and they would have to play some ball to beat her.

Mrs. Bell Childress

Mrs. Bell Childress, wife of Mr. Ennis Childress, aged 22, died at her home near here Friday, July 11, at 4 30 p. m.

Mrs. Childress has been a patient sufferer of tuberculosis for several years and last winter was taken to Catawba for treatment where she stayed three months. Since then she has been confined to her bed. She was never heard to complain and during her excessive pain she would smile and say, "It could be worse."

Mrs. Childress was a sweet Christian woman; she was an active member of Liberty Baptistchurch and the Woman's Missionary Society, which she attended regularly when she was able.

All was done for her that could be done by her patient and ever willing husband and also by relatives and friends

The funeral services took place at Liberty cemetery on Saturday at 4:30 p m. The services were conducted by Rev. East, her pastor. The grave was covered with beautiful flowers.

She is survived by her husband, one little boy, six sisters and three brothers, one of whom is still overseas, for whom much sympathy is expressed.

OLD BUCKINGHAM.

THE GRAND OLD COUNTY PHOTOGRAPHED

Many Interesting Reports Made of Her People.

The electoral board of Buckingham county met here on the 11th and elected judges of election to hold the primary and also judges to hold the regular election in November. Following is a list of those:

C. H. Precinct—Ewell Morgan, C. I. Taylor, George Kyle.

New Store—Ferd. Cole, H. A Southall, James Carter.

Curdsville—E P. Shepherd, M. J. Cox, W. E. Bailey.

Red Mills—E. B. Shepherd, G. T. Elam, Geo. R. Thomas.

Dillwyn—W. H. Smith, E P. Dunavant, Charlie Staton.

Wright's—J. H. Lewis, J. H. Harris, R. H. Wood.

Glenmore—R. N. Williams. William Johnson, H. M. Morris.

Gold Hill—N A. Walden, J. E. West, Rolf Smith.

New Canton—Morris Jones, Davy Jones, A J Terrill

Well Water—J. W. Banton, J. A. Winfree, J. T. Nuckols.

Damerons—J. W. L. Tindall, I. A. Bolling, A. W. Tapscott

The first named judges at each precinct is classed as a Republican. The judges appointed to hold the primary on August 5th are not all the same as those for regular election officers; and as a matter of course all these are Democrats E. B. Glover, Nelson Tyndall and J. H. Fitzgerald are the three present members of the electoral board.

It comes as a surprise to the clerks of district school boards that they will have to make the annual settlement in July, and Supt. Twyman has set the 18th as the date.

Mr. Wm. P. Ellis had a fall at home; he thought he had reached the last step in coming downstairs and the mistake caused him a quite serious fall.

On August 9 there is to be a tractor demonstration on the farm of Mr. J. M. Seward; come and see plowing done without horses; come and bring your dinner basket along, for this is to be the Farmers Union picnic.

The colored people had a meeting of their Farmers Union here on the 11th, which was well attended; quite a number of negroes were here in their own automobiles.

Messrs. Hubard and Garrett each addressed this meeting, by invitation.

Rolfe Wood, jr., who was kicked by one of the county mules, has got about well.

Mrs. Temple Ragland, who has been staying here with Mrs. M. P. Moss, has gone for a visit to a sister near Dillwyn.

Female Executioner.

According to the London Sunday Times of February 15, 1829, the hangman who executed Burke had a wife whom he had instructed in the art and mystery of hanging. Dressed in man's attire, while he was executing criminals in one part of the country, his lady was giving effect to the law in another. Burke, it may be recalled, was an Irishman, who was in the habit of suffocating his victims and selling their bodies to the anatomists. He was hanged at Edinburgh on January 28.
